Dear Business Client,

It appears Congress will approve additional funding for the Paycheck Protection Program, but we expect that funds could run out again quickly.

Your application is still in Stage 1, with an extremely large volume of applications ahead of yours. We know how important these funds would be to your business. We wanted to give you this information, so that you can decide if you would like to try applying with another lender.

Here is the high-level overview of the review and approval process:

Thank you for being a Chase customer.
